

IT Services | Q4FY25 Result Update

CMP: Rs.248 | TP: Rs 260 | Upside 5%

Weak Results; Tariff disruption to delay recovery further

- Wipro's IT services reported a CC Rev. QoQ decline of 0.8% (vs. est. flat revenue), led by broad-based decline across most verticals. However, OPM remained flat at 17.5% QoQ (DE: 17%) with beat led by operational efficiency in S&M (down 6% QoQ).
- TCV wins/Large deal wins at $4Bn/$1.8Bn were healthy, but Q1FY26 guidance of -3.5% to -1.5% CC growth builds in significantly heightened macro uncertainty affecting client spends and slow deal win conversions, implying FY26 to be another year of muted growth.
- The guidance and commentary indicate that tariff-related disruptions are likely to postpone the industry's recovery further. Consequently, we lower our FY26E revenue est. by 4%, while earnings est. remain unchanged for FY27E. Although valuations have eased, growth outlook remains hazy. Thereby, we maintain our 'Reduce' rating with TP of Rs. 260 at 20x FY27E earnings.

Near term outlook suggests continued headwinds

Guidance of -3.5% to -1.5% CC growth reflects increased caution by clients amidst tariff-related disruptions, affecting client decision-making. Clients in Consumer (sentiment) and Manufacturing (esp. Auto and Industrial – supply chain impact), have been ascribed a more direct impact from disruption, while clients in other verticals have seen increased caution. Additionally, commentary on maintaining margin within a narrow band (FY'25:17%) amidst a weak demand environment would be a tall ask.

Existing deal win ramp-up remains uncertain

Wipro won TCV of $3.96bn/$14.3Bn (+10%/-4% YoY) for Q4FY25/full year FY25. However, revenue coverage has been averaging 1.35x over the past 4 quarters (FY24 average was 1.4x), suggesting slow revenue conversion. Wipro further shared that large deals specifically have differing timelines on ramp-up, leading to Revenue accrual uncertainty. Despite healthy deal wins, a weak macro environment would lead to pauses/delays in revenue conversions and push out growth rates.

Turnaround in Europe awaited

Wipro's growth has been significantly impacted by weak performance in Europe (Europe witnessed a CQGR decline of 3% over the past 8 quarters) mainly due to slower than expected growth in the Capco region and project ramp-downs. With a £500mn deal win with UK-based insurer Phoenix group, the improved Capco order book, and a new leadership team, management is hopeful of improvement, though under the present challenging macros, the turnaround efforts could take longer in our view.

Change in Estimates

For FY25E/FY26E/FY27E – Weak commentary and commencing Q1FY26 on a band of de-growth suggests another year of revenue decline for FY26, while efforts related to turnaround may play out relatively better into FY27E. We lower Revenue estimates by 4.7% each for FY26E/FY27E. Margin estimates unchanged for FY26E and mildly revised for FY27E, noting weak growth and limited margin levers. Overall, earnings have been lowered by 0.8% for FY26E and largely unchanged for FY27E.

What to expect Next Quarter

Given the weak guidance band of -3.5% to -1.5% in CC terms and the potential slow deal conversion and ramp-ups, we expect Q1FY26 revenue to see a decline of 2.5% QoQ. Additionally, EBIT Margins (IT services) to decline by 90bps QoQ to 16.6%, weak revenues, growth investment costs and visa costs to be incurred in Q1.

Additionally, other sectors are witnessing an indirect impact of volatile demand.

- Margins: IT Services OPM stood at 17.5% in Q4FY25, flat on QoQ basis. Management shared a weak demand environment, and maintaining margins would be a challenge, though it did not provide guidance on the margin.

Valuation

The Nifty IT Index is down 23% YTD, with a key sell-off event towards March-end triggered by tariff-related disruption affecting global markets. While Wipro showed stable deal wins and margin improvement over the first nine months, Q4 end and Q1FY26 guidance reflect fresh uncertainty arising from tariff-related disruption, affecting spends. Despite recent corrections leading to eased multiples, the growth outlook for Wipro remains clouded by macro uncertainty. Consequently, we now value the company at 20x FY27E earnings of Rs.13 with a TP of Rs. 260 and maintain our rating at 'Reduce' noting weak commentary.
